NEW PLASTICS INDUSTRY HEARING TONIGHT

The Wilmington Board of Appeals, tonight, will listen to an appeal from the Terrell Corporation, of Waltham, which is seeking to locate on lower Woburn Street, in Wilmington.

Town Manager Joseph F. Courtney has stated that he will appear in favor of the company, which has an option to purchase four acres of land from Stanley Klements of 818 Woburn Street.

The Terrell Corporation, now in its fifth year, manufactures plastic adhesives, coatings and waxes. It occupies about 4000 feet of space in the Waltham plant, and has 14 employees.

It plans to erect an office building and laboratory about 20 feet wide, and 80 feet long facing Woburn Street, and then in the next year make additional room in back for manufacturing.

The products of the company are said to be practically odorless, and very safe from a fire viewpoint.

Representing the company at the Appeal hearing will be Charles M. Fosgate Jr of the Terrell Corp.

SILVER LAKE AMPUTEE STABBED BY HITCHHIKER

Joseph S. Manuel, 25 Hobson Avenue, Wilmington was stabbed by hitchhikers whom he had befriended, on Lowell Street, at about 11 p.m. Sunday night.

Manuel, who lost a leg as the result of a hunting accident last fall, was driving home from Wakefield, when he picked up two young men, described as being about 17 or 18 years old on Lowell Street, near the Reading line.

As the car approached Silver Lake the men suggested that he turn around, which he did. Nearing the Reading line Manuel stopped the car, at a turn out and ordered the men out.

One of the two youths drew a knife and slashed Manuel twice in the left arm, once near the shoulder, and the second time in the forearm. During the ensuing struggle Manuel fell to

A passing motorist, notified the Wilmington Police and Manuel was driven to the St. Johns Hospital, in Lowell in the Fire Department Ambulance by Fireman Ralph Plumer Jr. 15 stitches were required to close the two wounds, after which Manuel was released by the hospital.

Manuel, a World War II veteran has a baby daughter, 5 months old.

Search is still continuing for the two men Sgt. John Imbimbo, and Officers Anthony Langone and Arthur Kelley investigated the call, and are working in an effort to find Manuel's assailants.

A CALL FOR FAIR PLAY

This column has, in the past, tried to point out that an Umpire has a job to do, and that he generally does it well. We have watched a few ill-mannered individuals, at Little League games, berate an umpire because the decision he made was against their kid, and we didn't like the things we saw.

Now President Robert Hastings, of the Wilmington Little League has written a letter to all papers, on this subject. We consider the letter important enough to be given attention. It is printed in this issue.

PERMANENT BUILDING COMMITTEE

Last week, in this column, we reported some thoughts of the Finance Committee, and some thoughts of our own concerning a permanent Building Committee, for the Town of Wilmington.

As a result we have been given another thought, by one of readers, whom we consider an intelligent man, and who has had some experience in this particular line.

This man suggests that if a permanent building committee be appointed that the members should be given some kind of salary. The job of being on a Building Committee takes many hours, each week, over a period of years.

His point is well taken.

HOW LONG A DELAY?

Members of the Wilmington Housing Authority received a slight set back, at least, in their meeting with the Board of Selectmen on July 8th.

The WHA, led by William F. (Agreeable) Smith, is championing the cause of Urban Renewal, in the Wilmington Square Area of this town. Last week they brought their preliminary plans in to the Selectmen, together with a piece of paper for the Selectmen to sign, saying that a need for Urban Renewal did exist, and that the Wilmington Housing Authority was a properly constituted authority, capable of carrying out the work.

Instead of approval, the WHA got a delay.

In order to understand what happened, one must reflect on several facts, in this town of ours.

There are four elected sets of officials in Wilmington. As elected officials they find themselves beyond the direct control of the Town Manager. These four include three boards and one individual; the Town Moderator. The three boards are, respectively, the Selectmen, the School Committee, and the Wilmington Housing Authority. All other officials, in one way or another, can be described as being either under the Town Manager or the Selectmen or School Committee.

Heading the Wilmington Housing Authority is the doughty William F. (Agreeable) Smith. Mr. Smith can be described as a rugged Irishman who looks at three sides of the nickel, before he buys it. He is just as independent as he can be, and he isn't particularly loved, because of his attitude of independence.

Without a doubt the most powerful personality on the Board of Selectmen is Charles F. Black. His power descends, not from his long service, but from his careful circumspection of things past, present and future. He can probably be described as the man on the board who would win hands down in a poker party, and who at the same time is the most capable of holding all his cards closest to his vest. Before Mr. Black buys a gift horse he wants to make sure how all the fillings are. It is a very rare thing to catch Mr. Black backing the wrong horse.

When Mr. Smith presented the Urban Renewal papers to the Selectmen it was Mr. Black who blocked the play.

Now, as he stated, and without a doubt, Mr. Black is 100% for Urban Renewal. He, probably more than any other Selectman realizes that Urban Renewal is not only a necessity, but it is a necessity that will pay off in dollars and cents, if it is accomplished.

Mr. Black told Smith that before he would sign the necessary papers the Town Counsel would have to check everything, and the Planning Board should be allowed to have its say.

What Mr. Black was doing is of course a guess, and as we have indicated before, he holds his cards pretty close to his vest.

Our guess was that Mr. Black is not only being sure of his own position, as he always is, but that he is at the same time putting the Wilmington Housing Authority under some restraints, from (a) the Board of Selectmen and (b) the Planning Board.

He doesn't mistrust the WHA, he just thinks that in a project of this kind it is well to subject everything to an extra careful scrutiny, and he is putting the WHA in such a position that there will be an extra careful onceover, for if Mr. Black is the type of man who looks for the fillings in the teeth of a gift horse, the Wilmington Planning Board, which has been working for some time on a Master Plan of Wilmington will undoubtedly insist on X-Raying those same teeth.

at Hampton Beach, New Hamp-

TOWN NOTES

Weather

Only .04 inches of rain in the last week (on the ninth), a brief shower. We are in the middle of what the Metropolitan newspapers call the most severe drought in 70 years.

Our brooks have become stagnant streams. Silver Lake has not yet got to an all time low but it certainly is not to be described as being high.

The Water Commissioners

The local board of Water Commissioners are quite unhappy about a story which appeared in this paper some weeks ago, a story which said that no water shortage faces this town, according to Department Officials.

The local Gildersleeves feel, perhaps quite correctly, that they are the Department Officials, and that they didn't make the statement. While we didn't say Commissioners, we can see their point, and they are now on record as not being the officials involved.

Anyway, the Water Department is holding up quite nicely, at least so far into the drought.

Fishing

Never had a week that was so unproductive. At least, no one has reported any catches to us.

The only report of bass comes from Foster's Pond, in Andover where two were caught in the past week, one of them a three and one-half pounder.

No reports of trout, not even from the fellows who have been making their annual safaris to the State of Maine.

One friend came back with four salmon, though. He figured those salmon cost him $30 apiece.

Salt water fishing, too, is described as 'spotty', which translated into our language means that no one has been making any catches worth reporting.

Expensive Job

We note that the firm of Pelletier and Millbury, Inc have finally succeeded in tunneling under the B&M tracks, at Wo-burn Street.

It was an expensive job for them - we heard a figure of $100 a foot quoted as being the cost.

This is the firm that is installing the new water main,
under contract, from Concord Street to West Street.

They expected to dig a trench under the railroad, but ran into some difficulty with the railroad, and had to tunnel instead.

We don't recall offhand just what their contract price is, but it was in the vicinity of $20,000 from Woburn Street to West Street, which we thought at the time was very cheap.
Now with a 40 to 50 foot tun-

GEORGE C. KAMBOUR TO MOVE TO NEW JERSEY

George C. Kambour, former Wilmington High School teacher and more recently Principal of the High School in Warren Mass has accepted a position in the Livingston High School, Livingston, New Jersey.

Mr Kambour and his family moved to Warren in 1951, after he had served in the Wilmington High School in various capacities from 1930 to 1951. While in Wilmington the Kambours were very active in social, civic and church activities.

The Kambours have three children. Roger, a graduate of Amherst College, is working for his Doctor's degree in Chemistry. Constance graduated from Smith College this June. She is to be the organist at the Northfield School for Girls beginning in September. Edward graduated from Amherst College this June, and at present is playing professional baseball with the Corpus Christi, Texas, team of the Big State League. Roger prepared for college at Wilmington High School, while Constance and Edward prepared at both Wilmington and Warren High Schools.

Livingston N. J. is a rapidly growing community with a present population of 20,000. It is twenty miles due west of New York City. Mr. Kambour's responsibilities at Livingston High School will start after Labor Day.

LOCAL STUDENT ACCEPTED AT WENTWORTH INSTITUTE

BOSTON - Announcement of students accepted for engineering and industrial technician training beginning this fall at Wentworth Institute was made today by H Russell Beatty, president of Wentworth which grants an Associate in Engineering degree for completion of engineering technician course.

Enrolled from Wilmington is Robert H Swanson, Jr, 58 Brand Avenue, a student in the Production Technology course.

POSITION IN NEW YORK SCHOOL

Harland C. Whittredge, for past seven years the Guidance Director of Wilmington High School has accepted a similar position at the Ballston Spa, New York, High School. He will start his new duties at that school in September.

Ballston Spa is located about 30 miles north of Albany.

Mr. Whittredge has been a resident of Wilmington for the past 18 years, eight of which he has been teaching in the local High School. Prior to nel under the railroad track we'll bet their bankroll looks sick, as a result of this job.

Town Bounds

Town Engineer George Maynard has made a recent discovery that many a Wilmington man has known for the past twenty or known for the past twenty odd years - and that is that there is - or was - something wrong with the Town Boundary marker on Concord Street.

The home of Ralph Barden, on that street was built in North Reading. Now, without ever having been moved, it is in Wilmington. It wasn't the house, but the boundary marker that moved.

When Wilmington was first surveyed, back in 1730, a straight line was marked off on the map from Jenkin's corner (down near Jenk's Bridge) to the South East Corner of Nod (near the North Reading State Sanatorium). Then the surveyors trudged through the Hundred Acre Meadow, and over the nearby hills, to place a marker halfway between, where Concord Street is now.

Understandably, the surveyors were over 20 feet out, and it wasn't until a few years ago that somebody or other proved it.

At the moment nobody seems to remember what happened after that. The Town Engineer is trying to find out what he can do to make it official, if it isn't already so.

Just wait until he gets down to the southeast corner of Wilmington and starts to look for the original bound there!

He will have something else to learn about then.

The Firm is Broken Up

The famous firm of Markey and Dolan is no more. Wilmington will never be the same.

For more years than we care to remember these two gendarmes have ridden the Wilmington Police Cruisers, and joked and had their fun, all over town.

Any time there was ever any minor deviltry in the Police Department there was only one answer to it - Markey and Dolan! Let some cop find that his rain clothes had been turned inside out - and he knew who did it - without asking. Any drunk who turned in, as an overnight guest of the gendarmes would know, without a doubt where he was, next morning - if Markey and Dolan were on duty.

But the Chief of Police has changed all that - and not with any ulterior motive. It was just one of those routine shifts that comes up in any department.

The Phantom Again

We note that four street lights were broken, around midnight, some time last week, up on Fairmeadow Road.

The Phantom again?

The Ladies Will Miss Them

Two of Wilmington's former heart throbs, from the feminine viewpoint are out of circulation.

George 'Boo Boo' Shepard, Wilmington's Bachelor Cop, who is not only tall and rugged but has a face that isn't too hard to look at, went and got married last week to a Lowell girl. We heard some gals say they are planning a 'sob-party' with free crying rags, to mourn the event.

Harland Whittredge, who in addition to being Guidance Director of Wilmington School was the Director of the Evening Practical Arts School is moving to New York. While he was Director the enrollment, (feminine, mostly) of the school rose from around 200 to over 700. No one ever kidded Harland about it, but he isn't hard to look at, and he does have a nice easy way about him. Undoubtedly the gals will miss him, too.

Harland, incidentally, ran the biggest Evening Practical Arts School in the vicinity, and one which ranked as the largest, in proportion to population, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Atom Bombed

A few weeks ago we remarked the trench system, in front of the home of Don Kidder, one of our Selectmen. Mr. Kidder was seeking to install Town Water, and had quite a job getting a trench past all the boulders he found in his front lawn.

We don't know, perhaps its the heat, but Don hasn't had those trenches filled yet.

We thought, a few weeks ago that they looked like some of the battlefields of France. Today, with all our dry weather it looks like the aftermath of an Atom Bomb (junior grade) pitched a perfect game, for the Minor League Mothers Team, at the Little League Park, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs Yentile, in her first appearance in the pitcher's box pitched a perfect game - No Hits.

But she walked six runs, and finally her coach, Harry Johnson put in his star pitcher; already, though, it was a case of too late.

It reminded your scribe of the story of the old gentleman who asked the colored boy who was playing outfield what the score was.

'67 to 0' he was told. 'My' he said, 'Isn't that bad?'

'Nossuh' the answer came back 'We ain't been up yet'.

Anna Fairfield of Birchwood Road was sent in to retrieve the situation.

Mrs Fairfield, also pitching for the first time, had a little better control of the ball. She put the ball across the plate, and the Major League Mothers responded with six hits for four runs, and all before the first inning was over.

Actually the only two real ball players were on the Major League side, Mrs. Ernest Farrell and Mrs Edith Traill.

But the Major League mothers had a few more good players, too There was Pearl Hersom, Eldora Grant, and Fay Billings. Mrs Jean Waugh, of Lowell Street, scored three runs, a double, a single, and a base on balls.

The Minor League players made up in good sportsmanship for their lack of ball playing ability.

Four of the Minor League players made two hits apiece - Mrs. Yentile, Mary-Ann Langone, Mrs. Iovanna, and Mrs Nicky Johnson.

Everybody in the Major League crossed the plate at least once even if it was on balls. In the Minor League it was Mrs. Johnson, Mrs Rheume, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Langone who scored There were three doubles, one each by Mrs. Traill, Mrs Farrell and Mrs. Hersom.

Mrs Farrell was the best batsman. She made three for three, and scored three runs. She would, in desperation, take a whack at a ball that was sure not to be called a strike, hitting at it as though it were a golf ball, and lift it high into the air, landing somewhere near the fence. Some of those she would have undoubtedly made into home runs, except she had slow down because the runner in front of her didn't have enough speed to make the hit into a two base advance.

In one respect this was THE game of the year, for good

MANY ACTIVITIES AT SUMMER PLAYGROUND

The Wilmington High School playground, now in its third week, is a busy place.

About 269 enrolled children, with a daily attendance of about 150 are participating in the many activities offered. Every day is busy and filled with activity of indoor and outdoor games, crafts and creative dramatics.

Named 'Happy Village' it is becoming a real 'boom town'.

Hours

During the next two weeks Happy Village will be open from 9 am to noon for age groups 5 through 12, and from 1 to 4 pm for age groups 12 through 16.

On August 5th the hours of 9 am through 4 pm for all age groups, from 5 up, will resume.

Activities

'Town Elections' last week saw Jeff Williamsen elected as Town Manager, Donna Garland elected Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, with Selectmen Mike O'Reilly, Carol Carsaca, Duke Garland and Mike Bailey.

Policemen were Chief Arthur Finley, and Officers Eddie Surprenant, Randy Walden, Eddie White, Donna Yentile, and Dennis Surprenant. Firemen were Chief Stephen Barry, together with Firemen Douglas Clark and 'Butch' Yentile.

Joseph Motollo was elected Doctor, and Janice Iovanna Nurse.

Toy Keepers were Cathy Ryan and Nancy Weinberg, and Flag bearers were James Ryan, Annette Rosa, Eleanor Denault, Frank Yentile and Sheila Johnson.

More Activities

Among the activities of the youngsters are summer crafts, under the direction of Miss Irene Sharp, High School teacher and summer Crafts Director. In the past week the children fashioned tie clasps, bracelets, earrings and coat hangers, with colored gimp.

A real 'hot' checker tournament is being held, with a $1 prize under the direction of Ralph Johnson.

A 'crazy Hat' parade, last Friday, under the direction of Mesdames Madeline Higginbotham and Rose Cavanaugh, and the Misses Nancy Bannett, Helen Allen and Donna May saw prizes being awarded to Janice Breen, Randy Walden, Lance Walden, Jackie O'Connell, Jimmy Barry, Ann Quindland, Richard Denault, Allen Small, Kathy Harrison, Frances McLean, Anita Rosa, Ellen Sicard and Nancy Weinberg, out of the 45 contestants who entered.

A 'Westward Ho' cookout was scheduled for yesterday morning, at 11:30, and a 'Backward Party' is scheduled for Friday morning, at the suggestion of Martha Land. Miss Land made her suggestion as a result of her experiences at the Girl Scout Day Camp (Camp Wigisdaca), and all the 'town folk' will wear their clothing backward, with unmatched shoes, painted faces and different colored socks.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Little League Umpire

The differences between fan and umpire are understandable. They are inherent to baseball for the reason that the fan seldom, if ever, has an opportunity to regard a baseball game from the umpire's eye-view.

Little League Baseball provides a much wider area of understanding as between the fan and the umpire for the reason that they share the philosophy of the program, but there always remains a chance that they can and will disagree on any given play or call. In order to fully appreciate the position of the umpire, the fan or spectator must try to put himself in the umpire's place. He must realize that the umpire and NO ONE ELSE is close enough and in the right position to actually call balls and strikes or a play on the bases. In Little League most umpires as well as managers and coaches are non-professionals. For the most part they are volunteers in a very exacting job. They do make mistakes, but, like the managers and coaches, they too, are contributing their time and efforts to the program. The level of volunteer umpiring in Little League is exceptionally high, and the men who offer their services to Little League are to be congratulated. The fan who attends Little League games should consider this important aspect and should encourage rather than criticize these men. It is to be regretted that every fan could not at some time act as an umpire in a ball game of some importance. Next time you are tempted to second-guess the umpire, remember that he is doing a job for which you did not volunteer!!

WILMINGTON STUDENTS AT ESSEX AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL

Sandra Hibbard, Roosevelt Rd, Wilmington, who will be a junior at the Essex County Agricultural School next fall, is employed for her summer project work at F I Carter & Sons Tewksbury. Sandra is busy learning new skills at this establishment, her particular function being the propagation of young plants and packaging of plants for shipment. The training supplied by summer employment comes at a critical time in the life of a florist-minded student. The employer, as an instructor on the job, plays an important part in the training of a student, since it is at this stage that the student will form work habits that will remain with him throughout his life.

Allen Hancock, 8 Dunton Rd, Wilmington, a senior at the Agricultural School who will graduate in November, is employed by the Winchester Conservatories. At this establishment Allen is learning techniques necessary to become a successful florist - an occupation which requires more training and experience now than ever before.

Two Wilmington boys who will be sophomores at the Agricultural School in the fall are Richard Mottolo, 45 Church St, and Daniel Gillis, Jr, Dorchester St. Both of these boys are employed for the summer at the same Vermont farms in Hinesburg. Forty-six boys, including some in the vocational-guidance program, have been placed on Vermont farms. Most of the farms are operated by one man, so that the students work closely with the farmer. This close contact, both in the home and on the farm, gives the boys the best kind of practical experience. They can observe the planning of farm operations as well as participate in the actual activity.

Project work is required of all students at the Essex County Agricultural School - the school year consisting of 12 months; with six months of formal classroom instruction and six months of employed work related to the student's major interest in horticulture dairy, poultry, or vegetable and fruit crops.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Baptism by total immersion, as practiced by the Baptist Church, will be held on the shores of Silver Lake, next Sunday afternoon.

Believed to be the first such baptism in Wilmington in over one hundred years, it will be performed off Lake Street, opposite the home of Mr and Mrs George Mugford, and close to Steven's Market.

The Baptists are among that group of Christians that hold steadfastly that baptism by complete immersion is the true New Testament manner, and that candidates should be baptised in the same manner in which Our Lord was baptised.

The service of baptism will take place of the regular 7:30 service of the church. However Pastor Eliot Castill will bring a special message, and there will be a great song service as usual.

The message, to be delivered by the side of Silver Lake will be entitled 'From Jordan to Silver Lake'.

In case of inclement weather the baptismal service will be held on the following Sunday, July 28th, at the same location.

NEW ENGLAND GAS OFFERS $2,000,000 INSURANCE POLICY AT APPEAL BOARD HEARING

Several weeks may be expected to elapse before a decision is made by the Board of Appeals, on the latest appeal of the New England Gas Products Company, heard last Thursday evening in the Town Hall.

The Board of Appeals has indicated that it will entertain written opinions from the Planning Board and probably other officials before it makes its own opinion.

Atty Simon Cutter, representing the appellant at the hearing, presented a firm bid for the consideration of the Appeal Board.

In his argument Cutter offered a $2,000,000 insurance policy, guaranteeing the town of Wilmington and all the inhabitants thereof against any damages that might occur from any of the possible dangers of the acetylene manufacturing plant, as proposed.

He also agreed to covenant with the town to build the entire plant within the town. A conservative estimate, by Cutter was that the town would earn $14,000 yearly in taxes from the plant and the land on which it is proposed, land about 30 acres in extent.

In other stipulations Cutter agreed that the plant would be so constructed so as to be attractive in appearance, with brick facing on the office building, and on any other which would be visible from Main Street.

The slaked lime disposal area which had met objections before, from the Planning Board and the Town manager would be placed, Cutter said, in back of the lot, so as not to be visible from the street. It would be periodically emptied at such times as may be best, by market conditions, Cutter said.

The only abutter to speak at the hearing, Elmer Thomas of 93 Morse Avenue testified that he had traversed the area in question, and that he was satisfied with the proposal.

Thomas stated that not only was their woods between his home and the proposed plant, but that there was also a hill which, he felt protected him very well.

Planning Board

Daniel Gillis, of the Wilmington Planning Board objected to having too long periods between the emptying of the proposed disposal area for slaked lime.

Mr. Gillis attempted, vainly, to have Cutter propose to empty the pit every few months, and to further propose that the storage pit should be subdivided, and perhaps made smaller.

Cutter, on consultation with Mr. Mooney, of the gas firm objected to these proposals on the basis of cost, and further that they were unnecessary.

The presented proposal, Mr. Cutter stated, would never allow any lime to accumulate to the point where it would become objectionable.

Only a few interested townspeople were present at the hearing.
